Stay At Home Order EO N-33-20

- ▶ WHEREAS in a short period of time, COVID-19 has rapidly spread throughout California, necessitating updated and more stringent guidance from federal, state, and local public health officials; and
- ▶ WHEREAS for the preservation of public health and safety throughout the entire State of California, I find it necessary for all Californians to heed the State public health directives from the Department of Public Health.

Helping Children Cope with Emergencies

- Regardless of your child's age, he or she may feel upset or have other strong emotions after an emergency. Some children react right away, while others may show signs of difficulty much later. How a child reacts and the common signs of distress can vary according to the child's age, previous experiences, and how the child typically copes with stress.
- Children react, in part, on what they see from the adults around them. When parents and caregivers deal with a disaster calmly and confidently, they can provide the best support for their children.
- People can become more distressed if they see repeated images of a disaster in the media. Early on, consider limiting the amount of exposure you and your loved ones get to media coverage.

Helping Children Cope with Emergencies

The emotional impact of an emergency on a child depends on a child's characteristics and experiences, the social and economic circumstances of the family and community, and the availability of local resources. Not all children respond in the same ways. Some might have more severe, longer-lasting reactions.

The following specific factors may affect a child's emotional response:

- Direct involvement with the emergency
- Previous traumatic or stressful event
- Belief that the child or a loved one may die
- Loss of a family member, close friend, or pet
- Separation from caregivers
- Physical injury
- How parents and caregivers respond
- Family resources
- Relationships and communication among family members
- Repeated exposure to mass media coverage of the emergency and aftermath

Before

Talk to your kids so that they know you are prepared to keep them safe.

Review safety plans before a disaster or emergency happens.

Having a plan will increase your children's confidence and help give them a sense of control.

During

Stay calm and reassure your children.

Talk to children about what is happening in a way that they can understand. Keep it simple and appropriate for each child's age.

After

Provide children with opportunities to talk about what they think about it. Encourage them to share concerns and ask questions.

You can help your children feel a sense of control and manage their feelings by encouraging them to take action directly related to the disaster. Because parents, teachers, and other adults see children in different situations, it is important for them to work together to share information about how each child.

CHILD WELFARE CASE MANAGEMENT AND COURT HEARINGS

Supporting Children, Youth and Families in Foster Care

Child Welfare Resources – Foster Youth Rights

I am a foster youth and my caregiver is denying visits with my family due to COVID-19. What should I do?

- Despite the current public health situation, you still are entitled to your rights as a foster youth including access to medical care; right to contact family members, your county social worker, attorney, CASA or other advocate; and right to education and social contacts. Read more about Foster Youth Rights.

Child Welfare Resources: Court Hearings

On April 6, 2020, the Judiciary adopted Emergency Rules of Court that apply all over California.

- Link to the rules:
<https://jcc.legistar.com/View.ashx?M=F&ID=8234474&GUID=79611543-6A40-465C-8B8B-D324F5CAE349>
- Rule 6: Dependency Court Rules
- Rule 7: Delinquency Court Rules
- The rules stay in effect until 90 days after the Governor lifts the state of emergency related to COVID-19, or until they are changed by the Judiciary.

Rule 6: Emergency orders: juvenile dependency proceedings

<https://jcc.legistar.com/View.ashx?M=F&ID=8234474&GUID=79611543-6A40-465C-8B8B-D324F5CAE349>

- Essential Hearings – should be prioritized according to existing timelines:
 - 1) Protective Custody Warrants (WIC 342)
 - 2) Detention hearings (WIC 391)
 - 3) Psychotropic medication applications
 - 4) Emergency medical requests
 - 5) Re-entry petitions for non-minors
 - 6) Request to change a court order (WIC 388) that impacts the health and safety of a child

“Remote” Hearings

- All proceedings can be via remote technology.
Examples:
 - o Court call
 - o Webex
 - o Zoom
- The child welfare agency is responsible for notice of remote hearings, which must include instructions on how to participate remotely
- Notice can be provided by phone or electronically
- All court reports can be served electronically to attorneys
 - o If parents/children can't receive reports electronically, must be provided a hard copy

Considerations for Remote Hearings

Preserving confidentiality of hearings

Court rule requires judge to admonish all participants the proceeding is confidential – is that enough?

Do parties have access to technology to meaningfully participate in the court hearings?

Limitations for contested hearings

Are witnesses able to participate?
Difficulties in taking testimony and cross-
examination

Non-Essential Hearings

- Other hearings can be continued
 - However, to maintain IV-E eligibility, reasonable effort finding must be made within 12 months from date child entered foster care. Can be made without prejudice and reconsidered at a full hearing
- IMPORTANT! Nothing in the rule prohibits other hearings from occurring – varies by jurisdiction
- Also court can still make statutorily required findings and orders by minute order
 - Requires written stipulations from counsel

Jurisdictional Differences

- Differences in practice from county to county
 - Essential Hearings v. Non-essential hearings
 - Example: Placer doing all hearings; Los Angeles County only doing essential hearings until June 22
 - Remote Hearings v. In-Person Hearings
 - Example: Sacramento and San Diego are 100% remote while other counties are conducting select hearings in person.
- How do I know if a hearing is taking place and whether it will be remote or in person?
 - Find your court at <https://www.courts.ca.gov/find-my-court.htm> for information on your court operations.
- Contact the social worker or the child's/parent's counsel for more information.

Advocating During the COVID-19 Crisis

- Even if court only conducting essential hearings, can make findings by stipulation of all counsel
- Consider:
 - Reunifying families whenever possible
 - Ensuring appropriate family contact
 - Least restrictive placement, especially given safety concerns of COVID-19 in congregate care settings
 - Placement with relatives
 - Adjudication of cases where child nearing 18th birthday to preserve eligibility for extended foster care
 - Immigration/predicate orders if child nearing 18th birthday
 - Access to educational resources, mental health services, etc.

Rule 6: Family Visitation

<https://jcc.legistar.com/View.ashx?M=F&ID=8234474&GUID=79611543-6A40-465C-8B8B-D324F5CAE349>

During the state of emergency, all previously authorized visitation must continue

- Child welfare agency is to determine the “manner of visitation” to ensure the needs of the family are met
- To modify the manner of visitation, must consider:
 - Public health directives,
 - Best interest of the child and
 - Whether in-person can continue to be held safely
- If siblings/parents visits are modified, and the case is in family reunification or pending a .26 hearing, child welfare agency must notice attorneys for child and parents within 5 court days
- Attorneys can ask for court review– child or parent has burden to show change is not in best interest of child or based on public health care directives
- Can only suspend visits if detriment finding is made on particular case – CANNOT be based solely on crisis or public health care directives

Child Welfare Resources: State Guidance on Family Visitation

- Recommended that counties assess each situation to determine whether to modify face-to-face visits
 - For children under 3, counties should work to maintain face-to-face visits
 - When in-person visits do not occur, recommend that the foster parent provide video conferencing and increased phone calls with family members/other social contacts
 - Family connections that are essential to wellbeing of the child should be maintained consistent with screening protocols and social distancing recommendations, including outside visits
- Caseworker should also consider extended visit if court order permits and youth has had several overnight visits/is due to return home soon

Child Welfare Resources: Federal Guidance on Family Visitation

- Family time is important for child and parent well-being, as well as for efforts toward reunification
 - Discourage or refrain from issuing blanket court orders reducing or suspending family time
 - Encourage resource parents to supervise family time to limit additional people having to be involved
 - Consider the use of family members to supervise contact and engage in visitation outdoors, where feasible
 - Inquire whether parents and resource parents have access to technology to ensure virtual connections where in-person family time is not possible
- Consider whether children may be reunified with their parents in an expedited manner if the child's safety would not be jeopardized.

Child Welfare Resources: Monthly Social Worker Home Visits

Will a child in foster care still receive a monthly visit by a social worker? How are home visits changing in response to COVID-19?

- Section 422(b)(17) of the Social Security Act requires caseworkers to visit children in foster care on a monthly basis and, prior to the COVID-19 pandemic, these visits were required to be held face-to-face. In response to the pandemic, the Administration of Children and Families has revised the policy on face-to-face visits to allow for videoconferencing. While it is imperative that caseworkers continue to ensure the well-being of children in care, ACF clarified that the imperative must be balanced against the health of caseworkers, children in care, and all of the people with whom they come into contact. Thus, while there has been no change in the policy that every child must receive a monthly visit, those visits can now occur through online conference platforms like Skype, FaceTime or Zoom. Source: [Child Welfare Policy Manual \(CWPM\), §7.3, question #8]

Child Welfare Resources: Monthly Visits

How should a caseworker determine if a monthly visitation with children/youth needs to occur in person or via videoconferencing?

In order to minimize the transmission of COVID-19, some face-to-face caseworker visits may not be possible at this time. Whether a monthly visit should occur in person is a child-specific decision that must be made based on the training and experience of the social worker and considering all available information. Counties should begin by assessing the individual needs of families and children. This assessment of need should start with a call to every family to ensure they have what they need to meet the needs of the children in their care.

Child Welfare Resources: NMD Monthly Visits

How can non-minor dependents (NMDs) complete their monthly visitation visit with their caseworkers if the NMD does not have a phone or computer?

If the youth does not have a telephone or computer, it is imperative that case workers make arrangements to ensure the youth's needs are met and there is a way to contact the youth. Regardless of what method is utilized for monthly visits, case workers shall ensure that NMDs have proper resources and a plan developed for following local public health guidance, including, but not limited to: housing, food, water, hygiene, and other needed items. This applies to both NMDs in California and to those living out of state.

Child Welfare Resources: Emergency Placement

If a child is placed in an emergency placement during the statewide “Stay at Home” order, what are the available options if live scan services are not available?

- In the event of an emergency placement made pursuant to WIC Code Sections 309 or 361.45, families are generally required to submit their fingerprints for background checks within 10 days of receiving the emergency placement of a child or within five business days of receiving the emergency placement, whichever is sooner.
- If local live scan services are not available, the county may continue to rely on the results of the California Law Enforcement Telecommunication System (CLETs) for the maintenance of the placement. In instances when individuals who are required to live scan have been unable to live scan, those individuals should live scan within 15 days of when services are restored and the state “stay at home” order is lifted.

SILP Approval: Foster Youth Displaced from College

What housing options are available for foster youth who have recently been displaced from a university's dormitory living arrangement due to public health concerns regarding COVID-19.

- If a youth is displaced from their dorms, counties should continue the Supervised Independent Living Program (SILP) payment until such time that the NMD informs the county of the new or temporary residence. Counties may waive SILP inspection. The SOC 157B required signatures may be collected via mail.
- Counties should reach out to these youth to ensure they have the resources needed for transportation funds if they must temporarily move from campus, for alternate housing if dorms close, and to remain supported while they are out of school and to assist with ensuring that they are able to return to their campuses if they need to leave.

Extension of EFC beyond age 21 (until June 30, 2020)

Suspension participation requirements through June 30, 2020

Flexibility to approve SILPs for all NMDs and allow continuation of funding for youth when they are between placements (not just those that are displaced from college)

Supports for TAY (pending issuance of Executive Order)

Child Welfare Resources: CFT Meetings

Will Child and Family Team (CFT) meetings occur during the “stay at home” order?

- Yes. CFT meetings are an essential strategy for ensuring that families and providers can continue caring for children and to provide a way for the county to learn of the emotional and practical needs of the children and families during this time. When it is not possible or advisable to conduct meetings in person, meetings may be conducted using alternative options, including using videoconference or teleconference technology (with several free options, such as Skype, Zoom, or freeconferencecall.com available).
- CDSS recommends counties prioritize holding CFT meetings focused on the immediate and contingency planning needs of children in home-based placements and in congregate care placements at risk of placement disruption or who may be particularly significantly impacted by disruptions related to COVID-19.

Child Welfare Resources: Resource Family Approval Training

Will resource parent trainings still be available during this time?

- Counties have postponed all in-person trainings for resource parents and caregivers. For more information, please call your social worker
- In Los Angeles, you can contact the Resource Family Approval (RFA) warm line at (877) 323-7165 or visit the DCFS COVID-19 Updates page.
- For other counties, contact your social worker for more information.

Child Welfare Resources: Youth in Congregate Care

- Children’s residential care providers should establish health screening protocols for new admissions, for children returning from being off the premises of the facility, and for staff who enter and exit the facility each day.
- Facilities may request a county to provide a health screen for COVID-19 from a public health nurse, the child’s primary care physician, or another medical professional, as relevant and necessary for the children in their care.
- Depending upon the medical recommendations of the health professional, the provider-led response should seek to keep the child safe in the facility, or the county-led response should identify the best placement option for the child if the child cannot be safely cared for in the facility. Options include placing the child into a smaller family home environment, including reunification, extended home visits, or emergency placements using rate flexibility.

Child Welfare Resources – What if a Youth in Foster Care Develops COVID-19?

Child Welfare Resources – What If a Resource Parent Develops COVID-19?

- If a caregiver has been exposed to, presents symptoms of, or tests positive for, COVID19, the caseworker should ensure that the caregiver has support in caring for the child and in effectively self-isolating, including through the resources linked here.
- Caregiver exposure or illness is not in and of itself reason for moving a child.
- When a health professional has recommended that a child or caregiver should be isolated or quarantined due to COVID-19 exposure or symptoms, the county or Foster Family Agency, as applicable, should work with the caregiver to develop an emergency plan to meet practical needs such as food delivery, medication delivery, telehealth consultations, and mental health services.

Governor Newsom's Announcement of Additional Investments to Support At-Risk Children

- Additional Social Worker Outreach – $6,896,552. Support for social worker overtime and additional outreach by county social workers to foster family caregivers at higher risk of COVID-19 (e.g. caregivers who are over 60 years old). Social workers will engage these caregivers to identify specific needs or concerns.
- Family Resource Centers – $3,000,000. Funding will provide direct support and services to foster families, including material items, assistance with isolation needs, parenting resources, and staff time to help link families to other state and federal supports (e.g. food, housing, etc.).
- Expansion of Helplines – $250,000. Funds will assist 2-1-1 and Parents Anonymous to offer immediate assistance to families in crisis who are seeking assistance. Parents Anonymous will provide expanded hours of services, link parents to online support groups and will make referrals to county and local services and Family Resource Centers as needed.

FINANCIAL SUPPORTS AND BENEFITS

Supporting Children, Youth and Families in Foster Care

Federal CARES Act Stimulus Payments

Who will receive the stimulus payments?

- Individuals who filed taxes in 2018, 2019, or are receiving Social Security benefits, and file using a Social Security Number are potentially eligible to receive a stimulus payment (refundable credit). Some key rules are as follows:
 - Those with adjusted gross income up to $75,000 (individual/head of household) or $150,000 (married filing jointly) and who are not claimed as a dependent on someone else's taxes, are eligible for $1,200 ($2,400 for married).
 - Above those amounts, the credit goes down $5 for every $100 above the $75,000/$150,000 limits. The credit is entirely phased-out at $99,000 for single filers, $136,500 for head of household filers with one child, and $198,000 for joint filers with no children.
 - Additionally, those eligible for an adult payment also will receive an additional $500 per dependent child who is 16 years old or younger.

Note: This is a “refundable credit,” so individuals who have no income, who do not have to file taxes because they do not earn enough, and whose income is from non-taxable, means-tested benefit programs like Supplemental Security Income (SSI) can all receive payments.

When will I get a payment?

Distribution has already begun and will continue for the next few weeks.

You will receive a payment automatically with no action required if you:

- Filed taxes for 2018 or 2019
- Receive Social Security or Social Security Disability
- Receive Supplemental Security Income (SSI) – newly announced on April 15

What if I don't file taxes?

If you receive veterans disability compensation, a pension, or survivor benefits from the Department of Veterans Affairs, or your income level does not require you to file a tax return, then you need to submit information to the IRS to receive an Economic Impact Payment.

You can send this information online at:

<https://www.freefillableforms.com/#/fd/EconomicImpactPayment>

Stimulus Payments: FAQs

Can a Resource Parent Receive a Stimulus Payment for a Foster Child?

- If the resource parent filed taxes in 2018 or 2019, claimed a foster child as a dependent, and is otherwise income-eligible for a payment, they will automatically receive an additional payment for that child.

What if I have not filed 2019 taxes?

- If a foster parents did not yet file 2019 taxes, go to <https://www.irs.gov/coronavirus/economic-impact-payment-information-center> for information on how to use the “Get My Payment” tool and/or to file taxes.
- For non-filers, the IRS has a new web tool to assist those who don’t normally file taxes. Information and a link to the tool are here: <https://www.irs.gov/coronavirus/non-filers-enter-payment-info-here>

Can nonminor dependents receive a stimulus check?

- Yes, as long as no one else claims them as a dependent and they meet all other eligibility requirements.
- Adult supporters and advocates should support youth in filing taxes, using the non-filer tool if applicable, and establishing checking accounts (since receiving a paper check could take many months)

Other Benefits: Suspended Discontinuances

On March 17, 2020, Governor Newsom signed Executive Order N-29-20 suspending discontinuances of eligibility for public benefit programs that many children and families rely on to meet their basic needs. This suspension impacts the following:

Medi-Cal	CalFresh
CalWORKs	Cash Assistance Program for Immigrants (CAPI)
In-Home Supportive Services (IHSS)

Pursuant to the Executive Order, eligibility for assistance under these programs will continue until 6/17/20 for all individuals and families. Depending on the program, you may still receive paperwork for annual redeterminations; you are encouraged to fill this paperwork in, but your case will not be discontinued as a result of the paperwork being submitted.

The Executive Order is intended to ensure that there is no disruption in health care services, food supports, cash assistance, or in-home assistance for these families.

Suspension of Redeterminations for Permanency Supports

- Kin-GAP redeterminations will be delayed and all cases will continue to receive payment without the caregiver being required to send certification back within the typical timeline.
- AAP: Counties are being reminded that when AAP reassessments “the AAP 3” are sent to an adoptive parent, it’s at the parents discretion to return the assessment within 90 days, and if no form is returned the same rate will be continued.

Foster Care Benefits: Rate Flexibility

- Temporary use of COVID-19 is allowed as a Static Criteria for a rate equivalent to the Intensive Services Foster Care rate ($2609 per child per month) to provide care for children in the following situations:
 - The child or another member of the household requires isolation or quarantine due to COVID-19 or suspected COVID-19 and, as a result, there are increased care and supervision needs.
 - The child requires a new placement due to sudden displacement brought on by the COVID-19 crisis and the child is at risk of shelter placement.
- STRTP-Eligible Children Placed in a Family Home Setting with Exceptional Supports
 - Counties are authorized to negotiate a rate, not to exceed the STRTP rate, with an FFA that is able to provide individualized exceptional care, supervision, and services to a child who is determined to need an STRTP level of care.
- Extended Timeframe for Caregiver Approvals – Emergency Caregiver funding will be paid beyond 365 days while awaiting RFA

$200 Stipends to Support Families in Emergency Response or Family Maintenance

- Supporting Families Struggling to Stay Together –. Stipends of $200 per month to families in the Emergency Response and Family Maintenance programs and who need additional economic support to be able to stay together.

California Eviction Moratorium

- California issued a statewide moratorium on residential evictions for renters who cannot pay their rent because of COVID-19 related economic hardships. The moratorium went into effect on March 27 and is valid through May 31, 2020.
- If COVID-19 has impacted your ability to pay all or part of your rent, you should:
 - Explain your financial situation to your landlord and relay how much you are able to pay
 - Save all financial documents
 - Pay as much of your rent as you can
- If your landlord is attempting to evict you for not paying rent and you took all of the above steps, contact a local legal aid provider.

Eviction Moratorium: Obligation to Pay Rent

EO N-37-20

Does this mean tenants do not have to pay rent?

- No. Tenants are still legally obligated to pay their rent. Unless there is a local law to the contrary, landlords can:
 - issue the usual “three day notice to pay rent or quit;”
 - charge late fees; and
 - report delinquent rent payment to credit agencies.
- However, until the Judicial Council’s Emergency Rule 1 expires or is rescinded, landlords will not be able to start a new eviction lawsuit just because the tenant is behind on rent.
- Once Emergency Rule 1 expires or rescinded, landlords will have the option of proceeding with eviction lawsuits based on the fact the tenant fell behind. Some landlords may choose to work with tenants, but in the absence of a local law requiring it, landlords will not be obligated to give tenants time to get caught up.

Relief from Financial Institutions

- The CARES Act requires financial institutions that service federally-backed mortgage loans to offer six months (180 days) of mortgage forbearance to any borrower who requests it and affirms they are experiencing financial hardship during the COVID-19 emergency. Financial institutions are required to extend the initial period of forbearance by an additional 180 days upon request from any borrower.
 - Borrowers are not required to provide extensive documentation or proof of their hardship to qualify for CARES Act forbearance.
 - During any forbearance period, your servicer cannot charge any penalties, interest, or fees in connection with your mortgage relief.
 - CARES Act mortgage relief is effective beginning March 27, 2020.
- For those without federally backed mortgages: the State of California is working to soften the financial impact of COVID-19 on residents who are struggling to pay their mortgage and bills. Citigroup, JP Morgan Chase, US Bank, Wells Fargo, and nearly 200 state-chartered banks, credit unions, and servicers have committed to providing relief for consumers and homeowners in California. See the list of participating financial institutions.

CDSS: Housing and Homelessness Programs

Does a three-day pay or quit notice meet the program eligibility requirements for CDSS-funded programs?

- A three-day pay or quit notice meets the eligibility requirements of imminent risk of homelessness for CalWORKs HA, the BFH Program, HDAP, and Home Safe Program.

How can CDSS programs help with housing instability?

- CalWORKs HA can be used to pay up to two months of rental arrearages to prevent eviction. Additionally, the CalWORKs HSP, BFH, HDAP, and Home Safe program funds can be used to provide supports and financial assistance, as needed, to prevent program participants from returning to homelessness.

For program participants impacted by COVID-19, can housing assistance be extended, including rental or interim housing assistance?

- For all program participants, routine assessments of service and financial assistance needs should be completed, and programs should provide necessary resources, consistent with current program guidance, to ensure housing stability is maintained and loss of shelter or returns to homelessness are avoided as much as possible

Project Roomkey - Emergency Housing for Immediate Protection

California has become the first state in the nation to secure FEMA approval of Public assistance (PA) funding costs related to emergency, non-congregate sheltering (NCS) for tens of thousands of people experiencing homelessness in California in order to protect them and the state from COVID-19.

FEMA will reimburse Emergency NCS costs incurred for:

- Individuals who test positive for COVID-19 that do not require hospitalization, but need isolation or quarantine (including those exiting from hospitals);
- Individuals who have been exposed to COVID-19 (as documented by a state or local public health official, or medical health professional) that do not require hospitalization, but need isolation or quarantine; and
- Individuals who are asymptomatic, but are at “high-risk,” such as people over 65 or who have certain underlying health conditions (respiratory, compromised immunities, chronic disease), and who require Emergency NCS as a social distancing measure.

Project Roomkey: What can the State do to help?

- The State is providing technical assistance to local communities, in coordination with local emergency operations centers, tribes, county social services agencies, cities and homeless Continuums of Care, to help communities establish occupancy agreements with local property owners to secure emergency housing to keep people experiencing homelessness safe from COVID-19.
- This includes offering template legal agreements which reflect FEMA requirements, examples and resource documents related to services necessary for immediate onsite operation, and consulting regarding questions about onsite operations, potential resources, and fiscal matters.
